On the FARM where TIM lives with his Mum and Dad ...

... there are Sheep and cows and chickens and pigs and dogs and cats. And one big bull.

"We'll try SWIMMING!" says TIM.

TIM knows cows like SWIMMING and he has learnt about water safety at School. He doesn't know how well Lulu Moo can swim, so he squeezes an extra-big rubber ring around Lulu Moo's extra-big belly and they go down to the RIVER.

Lulu Moo bobs up and down in the water as TIM swims round and round.

The water is COOL and SWIMMING is better than RUNNING.

But Lulu Moo's belly is still growing
BIGGER and BIGGER.

Charlotte Giblin

Charlotte was born in the UK and had a pottery business there for 10 years called "Bouncing Pig Pottery", where she hand-painted cartoons of animals onto all the mugs and bowls. The Lulu Moo animals have grown from those pottery paintings!

Charlotte moved to New Zealand in 2009 and does lots of different creative things. She is a painter, writer, drawing tutor, illustrator and mural artist.

Wendy Walls

Wendy was a teacher specialising in art and later she taught Interior Design. She is now an established full-time mixed media artist and tutor, working from her studio/gallery in Whitianga.

Wendy's children were young teenagers when the family moved to a farm in Patumahoe and Wendy was inspired to write stories after observing the many amusing and challenging situations that unfolded around them. Lulu Moo is inspired by a real-life story involving her son Tim.
